NeuroCare

Meeting an Urgent Need

Sitrin NeuroCare is the first and only program of its kind in Upstate New York to provide long-term care for individuals with Huntington's Disease and ALS.

Physicians and Staff

Residents will receive expert care from highly trained staff who understand their needs and have the skills to provide for them.

Specialized Services

Sitrin's NeuroCare program employs a multidisciplinary approach to care, involving staff from nursing, physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech and language pathology, dietary/nutrition, therapeutic recreation, social services/case management and dental, as well as a behavioral specialist, attending physician, a consulting neurologist, and a consulting respiratory therapist.

While there is no cure for Huntington's Disease and ALS, the right kind of care and technology can make a dramatic difference in the quality of life for patients with these diseases.

Activities

Age-appropriate therapeutic activities take place regularly, such as art, music, dance, and horticulture, including community outings. Themed events and parties are also held for residents, their families, and staff to enjoy together.

Sitrin NeuroCare provides:

- Thirty-two (32) long-term care beds; single and double-occupancy.
- Higher staff-to-patient ratios.
- Individualized care plans specific to Huntington's Disease and ALS.
- Nutritional supervision from specially trained and licensed registered dietitians and speech pathologists to ensure residents' needs are consistently met.
- On-site dental services to address any issues for residents who require frequent or specialized treatments.
- Support groups for residents, families/caregivers, and staff.
- Room modifications and technology based on residents' needs.
- Guest rooms available on campus for families visiting from longer distances.
